2017 Fall Children's Program

The Woodstock Fine Arts Association has invited the hugely popular Novel Ideas Improvisation Troupe to return for a third season! This year's improv acts will be based on students' own writings.

Novel Ideas is an educational theater troupe that uses improvisation to educate, excite and inspire creative writing. Novel Ideas players will dramatize students' original writings and the students can watch their own writing come to life on stage with comedy, drama, audience participation and other theatrical elements.
